

August 8, 2008

Dear MBA student:

Welcome to MBA 545N700 Accounting Foundations, for the fall semester of 2008. This course will run the entire semester commencing on September 2nd and running through December 19th. We will be very busy for the entire duration of the semester.

The textbook for the course is Accounting: What the Numbers Mean 8th Edition by Marshall, McManus and Viele. McGraw-Hill / Irwin. 2008. Please obtain your textbook as soon as possible. You can check the Marist bookstore at <http://marist.bkstore.com> for availability and ordering or you can use one of the online sources of textbooks. Please be sure to get the 8th Edition as homework problems/answers, page references, and other material will differ.

In order to access the course, go to <http://elearning.marist.edu>. Your login name is your Marist account. For new students, your initial password is the first eight digits of your social security number. If you do not have or do not know your Marist account, contact the Marist college HELP Desk at (845) 575-4357 and request an account.

If this is your first course in the on-line MBA program or your first course using the Educator software, please click on the student tutorial and course demo links on the login page. You may have to experiment a little but these resources should provide an overview of how to navigate in our course.

Students will be able to access the course on or about August 29th, 2008. When you first logon, please be sure to view the syllabus posted and become familiar with its contents. Also, please go to the discussion group area and post a short biographical sketch where indicated. I ask that you include any information that you feel will help me and fellow students understand your perspective on course content and discussions. Feel free to include educational background, work experience, how far into the MBA program you are and how much eLearning experience you have. Please also include your thoughts on what you expect to gain from this course. This will allow us all to get to know each other.

Please know that I check my email regularly and will get back to you usually within 48 hours. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me. My e-mail account is Allison.Rossi@Marist.edu. Once we begin the course, it would be beneficial to use the course email for course related correspondence.

Once again, welcome to Accounting Foundations!

Sincerely,

Allison R. Rossi, MBA, CPA
Adjunct Instructor of Accounting
