

Explore your interest in

- Political Communications
- Professional Writing
- Policy Advocacy
- Public Service

and earn 3 credits in 6 weeks by taking part in the Albany Summer Internship Program.

An Environmental Studies & Policy major with minors in Political Science and Spanish Language Studies, Megan Nickel '19 (4th from right) completed an internship in Summer 2017 at Environmental Advocates of New York.

The Albany Summer Internship Program

Albany internship (3 credits)

- Interns work at their placements 4 days a week for 6 weeks.

Internship placement & support

- Placements vary according to students' interests. Interns meet regularly with the ASIP Director for guidance, lectures, and networking events.

Optional online Marist course

- Online courses are available at a discounted rate in a variety of disciplines.

ASIP Housing & Student Life

University Heights townhouses

- Students live in fully furnished 4-bedroom apartments that are centrally located in Albany's academic quadrangle.

Tuition

- The total program costs are $3000. This includes tuition, a program fee, and housing at University Heights.

Important dates

- Application deadline: March 1, 2019
- Program duration: May 20—June 28, 2019

Student Testimonial

"My time at Families Together in New York State through the Albany Summer Internship Program was exactly what I wanted it to be and more. I attended a press conference for the New York Raise the Age campaign, assisted in grant writing and research, and compiled questionnaire data into an extensive report to send to our grant funding source. In my six weeks I truly got a glimpse into policy work and a great foot-in-the-door experience for my future."

—Kylie Balogh '17 (Social Work major, Global Studies & Sociology minors)