

What to Expect When Making a Title IX Report.

Report Made to Title IX Office

A report is made to the Title IX Coordinator (TIXC), who then sends outreach to the complainant, including an invitation to meet.

Initial Meeting and Assessment

An informational meeting between the TIXC and the complainant intended to answer questions regarding resources, discuss available supportive measures, and institutional procedures.

Supportive Measures

Supportive measures such as counseling referrals, medical attention, No Contact Orders, academic support, alternative campus housing assignments, etc., will be offered, whether or not a formal complaint is signed and submitted.

4

No Further Action

This determination will be based upon the wishes of the complainant and the TIXC's initial assessment.

Formal Resolution

Involves a thorough and impartial investigation. Both parties receive notice of formal investigation. Formal Complaint must be signed & submitted to Title IX.

Informal Resolution

In certain instances, when both parties agree to informal resolution. May involve mediation. Formal Complaint must be signed & submitted.

Investigation

An investigator(s) is appointed to interview parties, witnesses, and collect evidence.

Investigative Report

The investigator will produce a preliminary report, which the parties and their advisers have a chance to review. The investigator will then produce a final report, which will include all evidence collected, which the parties and their advisers have a chance to review, prior to a hearing.

Conduct Hearing

A hearing panel will determine by a preponderance of the evidence whether the College's policies have been violated. If the panel determines there was a violation, the panel also will determine sanctions. Either party has opportunity to appeal.

This flow chart is intended to give an overview of the Title IX reporting process. For the complete policy and reporting options, please visit www.marist.edu/title-ix or visit Student Center 352