2024 Mentor

Travis Biro, Senior Product Manager, Ensono

At IBM, Travis got to lead the z/OSMF product team and build a fantastic community of enthusiasts and advocates at the z/OSMF guild, as well as launch new functionality with a focus on user-experience. Now at Ensono he manage our portfolio of Mainframe Modernization add-ons, with a focus on security, identity/access management and compliance.

He is most passionate about community building and loves to talk about how people are the most important part of any organization.
