

Welcome Message for ENG 170 Online

Welcome all! My name is Nick Lu, Assistant Professor of English. I will be your instructor for the online ENG 170 World Literature Course this summer. You can read about my basic information here at <https://www.marist.edu/liberal-arts/faculty/nick-lu>, including my email address. Feel free to email me any time you have questions about anything related to this course.

To prepare for this course, I ask you to please have the following textbooks ready:

- Norton Anthology of World Literature 5th edition, Volume D, E, F, (ISBN: 978-1-324-062322-3)

It's important that you get the correct textbooks and edition for accurate pages so you can follow the reading schedule for reading assignments.

In this course, the majority of your work will consist of reading response homework, reading quizzes, presentation, midterm and final essays.

I look forward to working with you this summer!
