

PSYC 323L: Lifespan Development – Section 741 (online) – Fall II 2026

Greetings Everyone!

Welcome to PSYC 323L: Lifespan Development. My name is Dr. Victoria Ferrara and I am your professor for the Fall II 2026 term. I look forward to guiding you through this online Lifespan Development course.

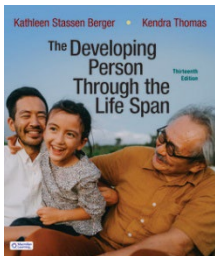

A Little Bit About Dr. Vick

I have a Ph.D. in Educational Psychology from Capella University and have been fortunate to work in my field for over 26 years. I am currently the Director of Educational Effectiveness Assessment at Marist University. Prior to this role, I served as the Director of Educational Assessment at Mercy University. Both roles afforded me opportunities to work with faculty to make sure that students achieve the learning outcomes necessary to complete their degree programs and be successful after graduation. While I have been teaching at Marist for 12 years, I've been with Marist full-time as an administrator for four (4) years. Other positions as a preschool teacher, childcare worker (with children with severe mental health and behavioral issues), and instructor have afforded me a variety of experiences and made me the instructor that I am today. I have been teaching for 26 years. I have spent the last 22 years teaching online (as well as in the classroom) and find tremendous value in the online course room. I give a lot of credit to my students over the years because I have learned quite a bit from them just as they have from me. I am looking forward to adding you to the group and learning about you and your experiences as we move through this course.
