

Hugh Schwartz, CEO, Hudson Valley Center for Innovation

After 25 years working in Fortune 500 companies with extensive experience building businesses, Hugh switched to consulting working first with turnarounds and then start-ups. His focus is helping companies commercialize their concepts. He worked in a variety of product categories including consumer goods, commercial food equipment, automotive, and medical devices.